If the Base is not otherwise specified, the table is based on the full sample

Where column base is below 50 respondents, figures should be seen as indicative only and we advise against using these when reporting unless appropriate caveats are given

To ensure a nationally representative sample, Opinium weights data to match the following criteria:

Q8a Summary

To what extent do you agree or disagree with the following statements?

	Labour will not be able to beat the Conservatives if it stands on a left-wing platform at a general election	It's better for your party to lose with policies you really believe in than to win with some policies that you like and some that you don't	The Labour Party is too busy talking to itself and not interested in what the rest of the country thinks	It's better for a party to be united regardless of whether it is too extreme or not	As the main opposition the Labour party has a responsibility to the country to be a credible alternative government	The way the Labour party has run their leadership election shows they can't be trusted to run the country
